Pipe Dreams

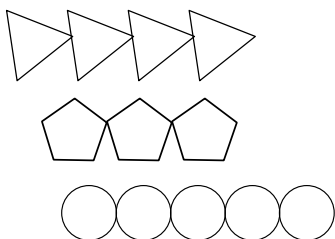

by Megan Davis

When you cross into the next NYC multiverse, it seems very dark...apparently this version of the city sank into the sewers?

There are no street signs, just a lot of pipes. Your street map looks like definitions of words. And you can start to make out sets of blanks on the pipes. But in order to leave, which words go where?

To compound the mystery, you notice the features between these blanks...and special markings on some blanks. Can you figure a way out of this?
