

Press Your Luck

All the puzzles that are fit to solve

Since 2011

Falling Stars

MEGAN DAVIS
METEOROLOGICAL SPORTS DEPARTMENT

Recent forecasts of falling stars took an interesting turn this week, when local residents deecided to turn the event into a betting opportunity.

Local bookie Jimmy "The Odds" Mallory claims he was contacted by numerous interested wagerers, who asked him to note various cryptic bets related to the stars. Some parts seemed to have meanings, but for others he said "I haven't got a clue!"

Things really started getting interesting when the predictions of falling stars turned into actual meteor strikes. Witnesses followed the path of each star straight from the sky to local landing spots.

Authorities are still trying to determine what these stars portend. Anyone with information is encouraged to fill out the form below. Mr. Mallory has not been available for comment since the initial strike.

clumsy ☆

pirate booty is ☆

mayor chides, hide ☆

US leader without identification ☆

South Carolina leads tire material to ☆ affectionate ☆

initially, many a rare tincture in neat ice makes ☆

it's legal on the high seas ☆

hang onto ☆

they say if you rush walking sticks you get ☆ spanish mister surrounds @ ☆

scramble veto, ☆

11 ☆

12 ☆

6 ☆

3 ☆

10 ☆

4 ☆

8 ☆

2 ☆

1 ☆

7 ☆

9 ☆

5 ☆

1 ☆

austerer jumble

have a say ☆

is a gift ☆

MemberOfCongress ☆

male sheep jewelry, change (R)ed to (G)reen ☆ honor embraces leadership of Walt Kelly ☆

major storms ☆

a tropical plant ☆

a cocktail ☆

a nest of eggs ☆

frowned at every other one ☆

someone who cleans ☆

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

9. _____

10. _____

11. _____

12. _____

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12